

Grape Spunk - Wine Memoirs 2015 (The Whippet Digest Presents)

This superb testament to fine wine fermentation emanates like a huge constipated turd from the Whippet Digests Food & Drink team. Featuring the marvellous reviews by their in house connoisseurs, Felicity Cockstraddler and Roderick Cameron Nightterror, it provides a cutting edge survival guide to navigating some of the lesser established 2015 vintages. Flirting a distinct luminous broken nose poca dot colour, infused with hallucinogenic tartan and a prominent cattle ranch nose, this belter of a book has a distinctly unique dry texture, skillfully woven to a completely fictitious fruity frame. Would pair magnificently on a lazy Sunday morning wash room expedition after a massive bender the night before, particularly if you have run out of toilet paper and read fast. However, this vintage should keep for years in a cool environment and is an excellent choice for refined individuals, who understand not to take life too seriously.
